How did you spend Easter?

THE DAMP, dull weather probably made you seek indoor rather than outdoor entertainment. The sun didn't come out for long until Monday afternoon.

But water in Worthing is not limited to the sea. The people on the right are watching model motor boats put through their paces at the mini-marina near Beach House.

If you went on the pier (below) the chances were that you didn't have to look far to find a vacant deck chair. And if you felt spirited enough to take a high flier from the deck railing a warning notice was there to give you a penetrating glimpse into what locals might regard as the obvious.

But there were people ready to enjoy the open air in reasonable numbers (bottom picture).
